> ABOUT

Shaped by an ambitious vision to forge new traditions, the Grande 32M is an innovative marvel of naval architecture.

Volumes in disguise. The masterful play of lines and curves gives rise to a natural tension, which runs from the bow to the extreme stern, dressing the abundant interior volumes with a gritty and dynamic exterior design. The large full-height windows rise from the hull to the superstructure, further lightening the yacht's appearance while expanding the sense of space inside.

A bespoke frame for the sea. The interiors transcend simple decoration, focusing on the composition of the space: free-flowing surfaces detach from the walls, becoming design elements in their own right; soft lines and organic geometries liquify the environments, welcoming and relaxing the ambience; the total project is charmed by a distinctive style and an independent mind.

A flowing plateau. The yacht's largest flush deck is as considerate of shape as of space. One lounge area follows another, weaving the curvy furnishings together to achieve a harmony amidst function, always with endless views of the horizon.

No borders, just horizons. The sense of space on board is oriented by the contrast between full and empty spaces, light surfaces and dark borders. Punctuating each area with style, the bulkheads curve at the ends to organically frame the full-height windows.

Front-row sea views. The full-height windows in the owner's suite offer extraordinary views of the sea and an expanded perception of space. Every precious detail shines under the flood of natural light that follows.
